Community Service Makes Edgewood a Great Place To Be

Dettore Wins Award for Service

Ernest Dettore Jr., of Beech Street has received the Award for Staff Excellence in Service to the Community and to the University from University of Pittsburgh Chancellor Mark A. Nordenberg. Dr. Dettore is a STARS Technical Assistance Consultant in the Office of Child Development. Dr. Dettore's volunteer work has included Heritage Community Initiatives and its 4 Kids Early Learning center, Shady Lane School, the YMCA, Beginning with Books, the Children's Museum of Pittsburgh and Pittsburgh Action Against Rape.

"Your many supporters for this award all agree that you have greatly enhanced the lives of countless children, their caretakers, and their educators," Nordenberg wrote in the letter notifying Dettore about his award. "And, that your supporters quoted Fred Rogers in recommending you for this award speaks to the deep admiration and respect you have earned as an advocate for our children."

Seeking Junior Councilperson

Edgewood Borough Council is currently accepting applications for Junior Councilperson for the 2010-11 school year. Eligible students must be entering the 11th or 12th grades, and be residents of Edgewood. Interested parties should send a letter of interest to the Borough Building, c/o the Junior Councilperson Program. Interviews will be conducted during July, with the selection taking place in August for early September installation. The Junior Councilperson Program in Edgewood is beginning its 5th year, and is a wonderful way for our neighborhood's young people to learn more about their community. JCP's can expect to spend 30 to 40 volunteer hours attending council meetings and special events, and council can provide assistance for students who wish to use the program as their state-required graduation project in community service.

Edgewood's DPW Keeps Borough Running Smoothly

Even though this winter's snow is only a distant memory now that the leaves and flowers are unfurling, Edgewood's Public Works Department is still hard at work keeping the community clean and livable. In addition to the all important work of snow removal, the department is responsible for maintenance of the municipal buildings, property and vehicles, including the parks and sewers. They keep our streets drivable through repair, a yearly cleaning of the storm drains and street sweeping. They clean and repair borough property after storm damage. The department does all flower and tree planting for the borough. Members of the department also assist with community events like Community Day. It is the Public Works Department that picks up the borough's recycling every other week.

To help the department do all of this, the borough has five full time employees and hires three part-time workers in the summer. Major equipment includes a backhoe, two pick-up trucks, two two-ton and one five-ton dump trucks, a street sweeper, leaf loader, and a wood chipper.

Library

Great Edgewood Yard Sale

Come out to support your library at this event on Saturday, May 15 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Edgewood Community House ballroom and living room. There will be plenty of wonderful things to buy at great prices. There will be books, furniture, toys, antiques, costume jewelry, quilts, paintings and much more. In addition the library has teamed up with the Edgewood Garden Club and their annual plant sale.

Board of Trustees

New members have been added to the Board of Trustees for 2010. Representing Edgewood Borough are Mayor Jean Davin, Council President Pat Shaefer and Council Member Audrey Waldo. Representing the Edgewood Club are Pat Doyle, Dan Donnelly, John Belechak and Kurt Heidinger. At large representatives are Chris Probert and Andrea Rockovich. Pat, Audrey, Kurt, Chris and Andrea are new to the Board.

The Board wishes to acknowledge Greer Mulholland and Marilyn Messina, who had a combined thirty-six years of service on the board, for their work and dedication to the library. Other trustees who stepped down this year are Ed Cook, Eric Schultz, and Alice Johnston. Thank you to all for donating your time and expertise.

Honor Books

The library has received a donation in honor of Alex Haas' first birthday. Books will be added to the collection to commemorate the occasion.

Local Authors

Ken Gormley donated his latest book The Death of American Virtue: Starr vs. Clinton to the library. The book is an account of the wide-ranging investigation of President Clinton.

Amy Dove has donated The Silly Little King as a memorial to her mother Patricia Hanley. Mrs. Hanley is also the author of the book.

Edgewood Memorabilia Center

There is a great collection of materials about the history of Edgewood and the Edgewood School System in our Memorabilia Corner. Over the years David Grubb maintained the collection and would periodically change two display cases with postcards that he owned. We would like to make those cases available to residents who have collections that would be of interest. The cases are 22"x26"x9". If you are interested in displaying items for a six week period, contact Sally Bogie at the library.

We the People Bookshelf

The library was selected to receive the 2010 We The People "More Perfect Union" Bookshelf. We will receive twenty books for children and teens for both the library in Edgewood and the library in Forest Hills. The books use literature and the visual arts to look at the history, aspirations and ideals of the American people. The books are made possible by a grant to the National Endowment for the Humanities.

It's not too late to participate in Wise Walk, a walking and fitness program. Participants keep track of their steps on a library provided pedometer and are asked to report those steps once a week. We are trying to combine

New Board Members

We would like to welcome two new board members to the foundation. Welcome Albert Caruso and Marjie Stewart. They are excited to be part of the Edgewood Foundation and are ready to help us make Edgewood a wonderful place to live!

Wine & Chocolate Affaire

November 6 is our third bi-annual Wine and Chocolate Affaire, held at the Edgewood Club. We are currently seeking volunteers to help in the planning of the event and during the event itself. If you have great ideas or time to spare, we'd love to get you involved. We are also taking donations for our Silent Auction. Anyone making donations will be given a free ad in the evening's program. It's a great way to bring attention to your local business.

Please contact Angel Lehrian at angel@lehrian.com or (412) 915-1120 regarding volunteering or making donations for the evening.

Limpert Award

Do you know someone who gives themselves selflessly to our community? Maybe someone you know has spent years volunteering in Edgewood. It's time to recognize those individuals with the community's Limpert Award. Forms can be picked up at the borough building or contact Angel Lehrian at angel@lehrian.com or (412) 915-1120.

Filmmakers

Festival and Events at the Regent Square Theater

Silk Screen Arts Organization is pleased to host the 5th Annual Asian American Film Festival May 7–16. Twenty films fresh from various film festivals around the world will be shown. Silk Screen is again proud to hold the festival at the Regent Square Theater, which has been an essential part of the festival in years past, and which hosts many of the screenings.

Individual ticket prices are $9 for adults and $5 for students with valid ID. A Festival Pass, which covers eight admissions, is $50 (a $72 value!). For more details, or to join Silk Screen's email list, please contact info@silkscreenfestival.org or visit www.silkscreenfestival.org.

Coming to the Regent Square Theater on May 21 is The Secret of Kells, a colorful and imaginative family film based on the ethos of good versus evil embodied as light versus darkness. The Secret of Kells was recently nominated for an Oscar in the category of Best Feature-Length Animation, and the film contains remarkable artistry in its hand-drawn style. The screening of this film is part of Filmmakers' ongoing series of family films, supported by the Edgewood Foundation.

Make a Difference to a Young Mom

Join a research study being conducted by the Department of Family Medicine of the University of Pittsburgh whose purpose is to help young women who have already had a baby to put off having another baby until they are a little bit older and maybe more ready to be a mom. Each group will have a theme and there will be some teaching, some activities, some discussion and some fun and celebration! Each participant will get gift cards if they complete all of the requirements of the study. Each mom will be partnered with a Maikuru (an older female mentor). Maikurus must be older than the young mom they partner and must have Act 33/34 clearance (the application fee is covered). Young moms must be under age 18 at the start of the study, have no more than one child, and be partnered with a Maikuru. To learn more, please call Mary at (412) 383-1000.

Annual Spring Plant Sale

On Saturday, May 15 the Edgewood Garden Club will once again hold its Spring Plant Sale from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. in Memorial Park, across from the Edgewood Borough Building and the First Presbyterian Church, at the corner of Race Street and East Swissvale Avenue. Our members will be available to offer you expert gardening tips and to help you select the best perennials, shade plants and shrubs for your sun-drenched or sun-deprived gardens. Tomatoes and various herbs will also be available.

All proceeds are used for the Garden Club's community plantings at various Edgewood sites. Come join us and find those hard-to-find plants at prices you won't see at the big box stores. Better mark your calendar! For questions, please contact George Petrone at (412) 371-7350.

Baseball season is here. Come down to Koenig Field and cheer on the 7/8, 9/10 and 11/12 year olds of Edgewood. Check the borough website for upcoming registrations for T-ball (ages 5-6) and girls in-house softball (ages 7-12). Forms will also be available at the borough building in mid-May. Their seasons start in June. Unfortunately there were not enough registrations for the girls travel softball team this year. Questions can be directed to Judy Mysels at (412) 292-3061.

Tax Time

The Edgewood Borough 2010 Real Estate Taxes were mailed out the first of April. They are due at discount until June 1, which is the last day I will accept them at discount. I apologize for not being in my office on some of my normal days, I had some family health issues to handle. A lot of people have called me because their taxes have gone up. This is due to the one and a half mill increase that was voted on in March. If you have not received your tax yet call my office ASAP.

The Woodland Hills School Taxes are due at penalty until the first week of May. There are still a few people who were paying in installments and have not paid their last payment. If you have questions about this call me at (412) 731-0200 and I will call you back.

By Maureen Smith, Tax Collector

EVFD

At the time of writing this article the EVFD has answered 92 alarms as of April 15. I am proud to report that not one of these calls involved a fire in a structure in the borough. I am pleased to see that my article is read and that everyone is making their home fire safe. We even answered a call to the Borough of Homestead to stand by in their station due to the fact that they were tied up on a major fire. Edgewood was well protected due to mutual aid from surrounding departments. I accredit this to the fact that the word is out that EVFD is a well-trained aggressive department. We are now focusing on participating in the State Professional Certification Program. The purpose of this program is to identify and recognize emergency service personnel whose accomplishments in training and education meets or exceeds nationally recognized standards. We have many of the requirements now due to the members attaining certifications in Fire Fighter I, EMT and various rescue certifications.

Now that spring is here, it is time to remind you that it is not safe to store any gasoline or gasoline-fueled equipment in the basement. Although the furnace is off, the hot water heater is still on. The pilot light on the hot water heater will ignite gasoline vapors. Remember, it is the vapors that burn, not the gasoline. Store all gasoline powered equipment and their fuel outside in a safe and secure area. If you are storing them in the garage and the garage is attached to your house, be sure the integral door has a tight seal and it should be a solid wood 1 3/8" in thickness or a steel door.

As always, if you are interested in joining the EVFD, stop in for an application. Membership is open to anyone who is at least 14 years of age.

Police Report

Have you lost your bike?

We currently have 12 bicycles that have been either found or turned in to us during the previous year. If you have lost a bike during this time period, feel free call to make an appointment with an officer to show you the bikes. Any unclaimed bikes will be turned over to the Salvation Army.

Spring Safety

After a long and snowy winter, spring is finally almost here. With warmer weather comes more vehicle and pedestrian traffic. Please be alert when driving, look out for children on bikes, joggers, pedestrians and mothers pushing strollers. Remember, if you see an aggressive driver, please report them to 911 immediately.

Citizens on Patrol

The Edgewood Police Department will offer the Citizen's Police Academy to residents and non-residents at no cost. You must register for the class

Police Tip of the Month

As the weather heats up, please remember to lock your car doors and patio doors. Thieves look for easy targets when attempting to break into homes and vehicles. Let's not make it inviting for them. As always report any suspicious activity to 911.

using the form found on the website www.edgewoodboro.com. The class runs for eight weeks and is held, for the most part, in the Edgewood Borough Council Chambers. Speakers from the City of Pittsburgh Police Department and various other organizations will visit during the classes. Please return your completed form to the Edgewood Police Department, ATTN: Citizen's Police Academy, 2 Race Street, Pittsburgh, PA 15218. For further information, please contact the borough at (412) 242-4824.
