A COMMUNITY NEWSLETTER OF EDGEWOOD BOROUGH

The Borough of Edgewood Honored as a 2015 Banner Community

The Borough of Edgewood has been named a 2015 Banner Community by the Allegheny League of Municipalities (ALOM) for providing effective, efficient and accountable services to its residents and businesses. The designation also acknowledges the Borough of Edgewood's efforts to inform and engage citizens through frequent and open communication, public and community events, and mentoring.

"Our region receives a different accolade weekly—the best place to retire, best place to pursue the American dream, most resilient, America's smartest and so many others—and those recognitions come because of the efforts of all of our local communities working together," said Allegheny County Executive Rich Fitzgerald. "The Banner Community Program highlights the efforts of our local governments and the standard they have set as a model municipality through community activities, educational programs, civic performance, and fiscal accountability. I am proud to see the Borough of Edgewood join that list this year."

To be recognized as a Banner Community, a municipality must demonstrate its commitment to the following best practices each year:

- Training and education for its elected and/or appointed officials;
- Active participation in professional organizations, such as the Allegheny League of Municipalities, Allegheny County Boroughs Association
- Active participation in its Council of Governments, as well as intergovernmental cooperation, sharing of services, and other joint efforts with one or more municipalities;
- Sponsorship and/or promotion of community events and activities, such as a community day, cleanup day, crime awareness effort, and benefits or fundraisers;
- Routine communication with residents through a newsletter, website, email or other method, as well as active participation with local elementary, middle and high school students, such as speaking to classes, sponsoring special events, and offering internships and/or student shadow days; and
- Promotion and implementation of long term sustainable governing practices by earning certification through Sustainable Pittsburgh, participating in the annual ALOM Wage and Salary Survey Program, and implementing goals of an up to date Municipal Comprehensive Plan.

“We’re proud that the Borough of Edgewood has been named as a 2015 Banner Community,” said Pat Schaefer, Council President. “As elected officials, we continue to work collaboratively to provide the most efficient, cost-effective, quality services to our residents and local businesses, and to promote the many great things Edgewood has to offer. By becoming a Banner Community, we are challenging ourselves to continue to learn and find ways to improve our borough operations for the benefit of our residents.”

Some of the best practices that the Borough of Edgewood implements are: Community Events like Community Day and Earth Day Cleanup, routine communication through our website, newsletter and email announcements, and our certification through Sustainable Pittsburgh.

“The Banner Communities program, now in its third year, has been an unqualified success for the Allegheny League of Municipalities and its member municipalities,” said Richard Hadley, Executive Director of ALOM. “Our Banner Communities are leading by example. The many diverse communities that have been recognized this year are dedicated to their residents and we are thankful for their service.”

“Local government is the level of government that is closest to its residents and its officials are more likely to know about local issues and where help is needed. The municipalities recognized in the Banner Community Program are the best of the best,” said County Executive Fitzgerald. “These

42 communities have set a standard for how government should function and have proven themselves as models through their commitment to effective and efficient government principals. Their officials are accountable to the residents, engaged in their communities and believe in challenging themselves to continue to learn and grow for the benefit of their community.”

The Borough of Edgewood was designated as a 2015 Banner Community during an April 7, 2015 press conference at the Allegheny County Courthouse by County Executive Fitzgerald. There were a total of 42 communities so designated this year.

SPOTLIGHT ON EDGEWOOD BUSINESS

LionWorks Printing & Graphics

Tom Gentile is the Manager at LionWorks Printing and Graphics, a full-service copy and print center housed and staffed by the community at the Western Pennsylvania School for the Deaf. WPSD has a print shop history going back almost 150 years—a tradition revived in 2007 when the LionWorks invested in state-of-the-art equipment for its shop.

“We do everything from wedding invitations to just straight copy jobs to business cards and vehicle wraps—we say no to very little.” Tom explains that the more work they have, the more experience the students gain to develop their skills.

LionWorks offers a wide variety of services, competitive pricing, excellent quality and a commitment to personal service. In addition to offering quality service, it also provides lifeskills and real life work experience to students at WPSD. With the exception of Tom Gentile, all the employees, trainees and students are members of the deaf community.

“We work with a program called PFS—Prep for Success” Tom explained. It’s a program for Seniors at WPSD that assists students in learning life skills through independent living, classes at community colleges and real life work situations. LionWorks employs full time staff who work closely with students on each and every job. Proceeds generated by LionWorks benefit the Western Pennsylvania School for the Deaf as well as the print shop. Tom’s goal for the future of LionWorks is simple and good-hearted: “We keep improving, and try to please our customers so that we can involve more kids!”

Equipment at the shop

LionWorks is proud to be a part of the Edgewood Community, and regularly takes part in our Community Day celebration—in addition to providing print work to our Fire and Police Departments. Even some of the signs in the neighborhood may have been printed at LionWorks! In fact, the Borough of Edgewood’s Newsletter has been printed at LionWorks since the print shop was revived in 2007.

If you have a project to be printed, bound or designed, take it to this gem of a print shop! LionWorks is a business Edgewood can really ROAR about!

Police Report

TALKING ABOUT 9-1-1 WITH KIDS

Not that long ago, there were separate telephone numbers for each type of emergency agency. For a fire, you called the fire department; for a crime, you called the police; for a medical situation, you called an ambulance or doctor. But now, 911 is a central number for all types of emergencies. An emergency dispatch operator quickly takes information from the caller and puts the caller in direct contact with whatever emergency personnel are needed, thus making response time quicker.

Everyone needs to know about calling 911 in an emergency. But kids also need to know the specifics about what an emergency is. Ask them questions like, "What would you do if we had a fire in our house?" or "What would you do if you saw someone trying to break in?" This will give you a chance to discuss what constitutes an emergency and what to do if one occurs. Role playing is an especially good way to address various emergency scenarios and give your kids the confidence they'll need to handle them.

For younger children, it might also help to talk about who the emergency workers are in your community—police officers, firefighters, paramedics, doctors, nurses, and so on—and what kinds of things they do to help people who are in trouble. This will clarify not only what types of emergencies can occur, but also who can help.

When to Call 911

It is very important to understand what IS an emergency and what IS NOT. A fire, an intruder in the home, an unconscious family member—these are all things that would require a call to 911. A skinned knee or just to ask a question would not. Still, teach your child that if ever in doubt and there's no adult around to ask, make the call. It's much better to be safe than sorry. Make sure your kids understand that calling 911 as a joke is a crime in many places. Stress that whenever an unnecessary call is made to 911, it can delay a response to someone who actually needs it. Most areas now have what is called enhanced 911, which enables a call to be traced to the location from which it was made. So if someone dials 911 as a prank, emergency personnel could be dispatched directly to that location. Not only could this mean life or death for someone having a real emergency on the other side of town, it also means that it's very likely the prank caller will be caught and punished.

Although most 911 calls are now traced, it's still important for your kids to have your street address and phone number memorized. They'll need to give that information to the operator as a confirmation so time isn't lost sending emergency workers to the wrong address.

Make sure your kids know that even though they shouldn't give personal information to strangers, it's OK to trust the 911 operator. Walk them through some of the questions like:

- Where are you calling from?
- Where do you live?
- What type of emergency is there?
- Who needs help?
- Is the person awake and breathing?

Explain that it's OK to be frightened in an emergency, but it's important to stay calm, speak slowly and clearly, and give as much detail to the 911 operator as possible. If they're old enough to understand, also explain that the emergency dispatcher may give first-aid instructions before emergency workers arrive at the scene. Make it clear that your child should NOT hang up until the person on the other end says it's OK, otherwise important instructions or information could be missed.

More Safety Tips

Here are some additional safety tips to keep in mind:

- Always refer to the emergency number as "nine-one-one" not "nine-eleven." In an emergency, a child may not know how to dial the number correctly because of trying to find the "eleven" button on the phone.
- Make sure your house number is clearly visible from the street so that police, fire, or ambulance workers can easily locate your address.
- If you live in an apartment building, make sure your child knows the apartment number and floor you live on.
- Keep a list of emergency phone numbers handy near each phone for your kids or babysitter. This should include police, fire, and medical numbers as well as a number where you can be reached, such as your cell phone, pager, or work number. In the confusion of an emergency, calling from a printed list is simpler than looking in the phone book or figuring out which is the correct speed-dial number. The list should also include known allergies (especially to any medication), medical conditions, and insurance information.
- If you have special circumstances, such as an elderly grandparent or a person with a heart condition, epilepsy, or diabetes living in your home, prepare your child by discussing specific emergencies that could occur and how to spot them.

Congratulations are in order for the Police Department's Officer Fred Livingston! After much hard work, Officer Livingston graduated Magna Cum Laude from Point Park University on May 2 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Criminology and Forensics. Officer Livingston has 19 years of service with the Edgewood Police Department, and we are very proud to have him on our force.

When it Rains, it Drains

How Storm Water Runoff is Affecting Your Money, Safety, Health and the Environment

Storm water, or water from precipitation, flows across the ground and pavement when it rains or when snow or ice melt. The water seeps into the ground or drains into storm sewers. These are the drains you see at street corners or at low points on the sides of streets. Collectively, draining water is called storm water runoff.

Storm water becomes a problem when it picks up debris, chemicals, dirt and other pollutants as it flows or when it causes flooding and erosion of stream banks. Storm water travels through a system of pipes and roadside ditches that make up storm sewer systems. It eventually flows directly to a lake, river, stream, wetland or coastal water. All of the pollutants storm water carries along the way empty into our waters because storm water is not treated.

- PET WASTE left on the ground gets carried away by storm water, contributing harmful bacteria, parasites and viruses to our water.
  - VEHICLE FLUIDS (oil, grease, gasoline, antifreeze, brake fluids, etc.) drip onto paved areas where storm water runoff carries them through our storm drains and into our water.
  - IMPROPERLY USED CHEMICALS used for lawn and garden care can seep into storm drains.
  - CONSTRUCTION CHEMICALS AND MATERIALS create waste that also washes into the storm sewer system.
- Problems related to storm water runoff can include:
- FLOODING caused by too much storm water flowing over hardened surfaces such as roads and parking lots, instead of soaking into the ground.
  - INCREASES IN SPENDING on maintaining storm drains and the storm sewer system that become clogged with excessive amounts of dirt and debris
  - DECREASES IN SPORTFISH populations because storm water carries sediment and pollutants that degrade important fish habitats.
  - MORE EXPENSIVE TREATMENT technologies to remove harmful pollutants carried by storm water into our drinking water supplies.
- CLOSED BEACHES due to high levels of bacteria carried by storm water that make swimming unsafe.
  - PICK UP AFTER PETS and dispose of their waste properly. No matter where pets make a mess—in a backyard or at the park—storm water runoff can carry pet waste from the land to the storm sewer system into a stream.
  - STORE MATERIALS that could pollute storm water indoors and use containers for outdoor storage that do not rust or leak to eliminate exposure of materials to storm water.
- WHAT WE CAN DO
We can protect our health and environment while saving money for ourselves and our community:
- PROPERLY DISPOSE of hazardous substances such as used oil, cleaning supplies and paint—NEVER pour them down any part of the storm sewer system and report anyone who does.
  - USE pesticides and herbicides properly and efficiently to prevent excess runoff.
  - LOOK FOR SIGNS of soil and other pollutants, such as debris and chemicals, leaving construction sites in storm water runoff or tracked into roads by construction vehicles. Report poorly managed construction sites that could impact storm water runoff to your community.
  - INSTALL storm water collectors on your property, such as rain barrels or rain gardens that capture storm water and keep it on site instead of letting it drain away into the storm sewer system.
  - REPORT any discharges from storm water outfalls during times of dry weather—that’s a sign there could be a problem with the storm sewer system.
- The Borough of Edgewood is preventing storm water pollution through a Storm Water Management Program. This program addresses storm water pollution from construction, new development, illegal dumping to the storm sewer system, as well as pollution prevention and good housekeeping practices in municipal operations. The Borough of Edgewood will also continue to educate the community and get everyone involved in making sure the only thing that storm water contributes to our water is WATER!
- Contact Borough Manager Julie Bastianini at manager@edgewoodboro.com, or visit the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection website for more information about storm water management at www.dep.state.pa.us.

Thank you to our volunteers, who helped clean up the neighborhood on April 18, as part of Earth Week!

Our next Clean-Up Day is planned for Saturday, June 13 for the Brinton Road area. Please help us do our part in our cooperative agreement with Braddock Hills and Edgewood DPW. Each organization makes sure our neighborhood corridor is free of debris for two months of the year. Garbage bags, gloves, vests and snacks will be provided for everyone who volunteers. This clean-up is for ADULTS ONLY, as this area is too busy to keep children safe while helping.

Refer to our website, www.edgewoodfoundation.org for more details!

Edgewood Historical Society

In cooperation with the Heinz History Center, the Edgewood Historical Society has been working with students from the California University of Pennsylvania. They have been electronically scanning several important items for a future website we hope to have up in 2015. We hope to have available the comprehensive 1934 book called, "Borough of Edgewood—A History", The Edgewood 75th Anniversary issue of the Gazette from November 28, 1963, plus over 100 post cards of Edgewood houses, The Western Pennsylvania School for the Deaf, miscellaneous public buildings, Union Switch and Signal Company and other locations throughout the Borough. We will keep everyone updated as this project progresses. If all goes well, we may be able in the future digitize the Edgewood School's books.

We are always looking for old Edgewood newspapers, books, photos or family histories to preserve, so please send us anything you may have!

Pictured is 326 Maple Ave. Built in 1891, this home has been owned since 2004 by Jane Caldwell Wallace, granddaughter of the owner of the Wilkinsburg department store Caldwell & Graham.
